WHY IS THE DEMAND FOR SIPs GROWING SO FAST?

- The strength of the panels, far greater than standard timber frame structures
- Energy efficiency
- Improved air-tightness
- Speed of construction
- Helps to achieve higher levels of sustainability than most other forms of construction
- Has green credentials

Sips Eco Panels is one of the largest SIPs manufacturers in the UK with full CATG SIP mark Accreditation.

We supply our SIP panels to:

- Developers, from blocks of flats to housing projects
- Architects, requiring specialist support on prestigious projects
- Individual house builders for new homes or extensions
- Extension and home office companies
- Other SIPs processors for onward sale to their own clients

We have a number of factory units manufacturing and fabricating panels using the latest design programs and the latest automated production line to enable us to meet the growing demand for our panels as the requirement for energy efficient and PassivHaus standards rapidly approaches. We have a rapidly expanding R&D department and one of our experienced team is a committee member of the Structural Timber Association.
